RUSH MADE AT POSTOFFICE
CLERKS GET NO LAY OVER

Postmaster R. W. Hopkins places tables, ink, pens, paste brushes and other conveniences in lobby.

In order to increase the conveniences available for handling the Christmas rush Postmaster R. W. Hopkins has had a long table placed in the postoffice lobby, and has it supplied with ink, pens, paste, blotters and all the things which will aid the public in dispatching Christmas packages.

This has been done in accordance with an annual custom of Mr. Hopkins, and is a thing which is greatly appreciated by the public, as the desk facilities in the postoffice, though ample for ordinary use, are too few to care for the rush.

SANTA FE MAN TO HEAD NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

F. R. Frost, Chief Engineer for Railway, Chosen President of the Association of Railway Electric Engineers

F. R. Frost, chief engineer for the Santa Fe, has been elected president of the Association of Railway Electric Engineers, at a recent meeting of that organization. Mr. Frost, though a young man, is regarded as one of the authorities on electric lighting of passenger cars.

He is a graduate of Cornell, of the class of 1898, and was born in Ulster in 1879. After taking his M. E. degree from Cornell, he put in several months in the department of tests of the Bureau of Awards of the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893, and later took a student course at the Westminster plant. Still later he did post-graduate work at Cornell on alternating current phenomena, and in 1901 came to the Santa Fe as electric engineer, with which road he has been ever since.

PETTY JEALOUSY CAUSED REPORT SAY PLUMBERS

Local Journeyman Deny That Strike Was Ordered, or Alleged Meeting Which Ordered It Was Ever Held.

Statements made today by prominent members of the local plumbers union show that the strike reports printed at the instance of Earl Bowditch, president of the local organization of plumbers, were caused by a difference of opinion as to whether or not there was a union in Albuquerque.

Tuesday afternoon, Bowditch, the latest man elected to fill the chair of the Albuquerque plumbers' local, made a statement, at his own request, in which he announced that a strike had been called by order of a union meeting held the night before, and on advice of a national officer, against Beaman and Ayer and the Whitney company, the latter being one of the largest firms engaged in plumbing work in Albuquerque.

He made this statement in the presence of witnesses, and as his statements had always been reliable it was accepted on its face value. At it happened, Bowditch stated that the strike had been called by order of a meeting held Tuesday night.

That meeting was never held, according to two other members of the total enrollment of four.

Bowditch Tries to Stop Work.

Tuesday, plumbers say, he instructed a journeyman working for the Whitney company that a strike had been called by a meeting of the local. The man investigated, through several other men, and found that the meeting, if held, had a maximum attendance of two men, and a probable attendance of one, the president in view of this he refused to quit work. An official of the Whitney company stated that there was no strike, that his company had not been notified of any strike, that he had investigated and found that Beaman and Ayer had not been notified of a strike, and that no men had stopped work for either firm. He also stated that the publication of a strike notice had injured his business, and that he thought in fairness it should be withdrawn.

Strike Not Denied.

This afternoon, Walter Leedy, a former officer of the plumbers' local, and a strong union man, denied that there was any strike, but laid the report at Bowditch's door. "Bowditch is jealous of some men who have secured work here," he said. "I came back from San Francisco after the September strike, and got my job back again with the Whitney company, he was jealous. He told me that I should have stayed there, and given some of the others a chance at work."

The Whitney company official referred to above stated that Leedy had been given a job after the strike because he was a good workman, because the company desired to show its good faith in the settlement which was effected.

"Bowditch was going away, and wanted to stir up trouble," said one of the plumbers. "There is no plumber's local here, and he knows it. For months I have not attended a meeting. I am not slow and tired of the action of some of the officers."

Plumbers Union Broken.

"There are just four journeymen plumbers here," he said, "and it takes eight to hold a chapter. We still have ours, but that is because nothing definite has been heard from headquarters. The plumbers' union here was broken when so many journeymen opened shops of their own after the September strike."

At present, Bowditch, the president of the union, whom it was really a union, is in Santa Fe, having gone the same day he started the strike report. James Cole, the secretary, is working as a brakeman; William Cole, a journeyman, is in Fort Defiance, and there are three journeymen working here for different firms now. There are Israel Putnam, Walter Leedy and Ed Corcoran.

A. Moskowitz, charged with illegally selling liquor, who had a hearing Friday, was today discharged by United States Commissioner H. R. Whiting, before whom the hearing was held.

INTERIOR PLAYERS ARE NO LONGER AUTOMATA

Perfected Mechanism Makes Them Responsive to Most Delicate Shades of Expression. Local Experts Interested.

The time when interior-player pianos were regarded as mere automata has passed, and the interpretative control had over these instruments is now so perfect that even expert musicians are recommending their use. The truth of these statements has been strikingly illustrated in Albuquerque this week in the extraordinary interest manifested in the magnificient display of interior players at the Leonard-Lindemann store.

Although a number have already been sold for holiday delivery, a very handsome, new one—in the popular mission style—has just been received, and local music lovers are cordially invited to inspect it.
